

FY16 Donations to the Collections

Debra Zimble: 1941 Phoenix Club yearbook, owned by donor's father. Gift of Debra Zimble in memory of Morton Zimble.

Benjamin Plotkin: Sterling silver and silverplate serving pieces, including one five-piece place setting; two baby cups; one baby spoon; child's milk pitcher; pewter salt shaker; plus a family photograph, identified. All from the Plotkin family of Baltimore.

Joseph Meyerhoff Family Charitable Funds: Citations awarded by Baltimore County, the U.S. Senate, and the U.S. House of Representatives to Lyn P. Meyerhoff, in recognition of her posthumous induction into the Jewish Community Center's Baltimore Hall of Fame.

Ellen Kahan Zager: Archival and artifact material from K. Hettleman & Sons, and Ansam Metals, two Baltimore scrap metal companies; several publicity posters/brochures from local Jewish organizations, designed by the donor, 1980s; a metal printing plate used to create Hebrew teaching material; and other artifacts, archival material, and photos, related to donor's families (Fox, Hettleman, and Kahan) and business interests, Baltimore

Elaine Rosenfeld: Small collection of archival material related to the life and career of Baltimore artist Edward Rosenfeld.

Fay Krosin, via Bobbie Horwitz: Two scrapbooks from Sinai Hospital School of Nursing, Baltimore, 1950s-60s.

Donna Moffatt: Six commemorative plates, ceramic, produced and sold by Hutzler's Dept Store, Baltimore.

Esther Weiner: Items from/related to Weiner's Pharmacy, Baltimore: 1920s typewriter, used in the pharmacy to type bottle labels and the like; a snapshot of Esther herself in front of the store, 1940s; two 1940s pharmacy textbooks, used by Morty Weiner while at the University of Maryland pharmacy school; small tin of quinine pills, 1910s.

Margaret Nomentana: Collection of letters sent to donor's ancestor Jacob Epstein, 1900s-40s; primarily from women, including both short-term and long-term extra-marital relationships.

Nancy Bushwick Malloy: Five novelty ceramic liquor bottles, 1960s-70s, from the Highlandtown liquor store "Adolf's" owned by the Tunis and Bushwick families

Phil Sagal: Plaster bust of owner's father, Abe Sagal, made by a local art teacher in 1932. On marble base (original).

Morton Esterson: Archival material related primarily to local synagogues and organizations.

Ira Askin: Certificate, pin, and ID card related to donor's service in the National Defense Executive Reserve.

Ray and Nadine Weinstein: Yiddish Tales, presented to a member of the Beth Jacob Sisterhood in 1946.

Adiva and Harry Sotzsky: Archival records, photos, and three pennants from the Jewish Navy, an organization of Jewish recreational boaters and boat owners based in Annapolis.

Barry Kostinsky: Westward Ho!, yearbook of Western High School (Baltimore), 1931.

Leah Schuman: Tifereth Israel Congregation (Forest Park) dedication plaque, 1949; Warne's Complete English-Jewish Letter Writer and Legal Forms of Contract, 1900.

Doris Morgenstern Wachsler: Collection of original documents and photos related to Dr. and Mrs. Morgenstern's life, careers, and immigration to Annapolis in the 1930s.

Paul Walsky: 1900s-10s papers – invoices, bills, letters, receipts – and a 1917 patent, generated by personal and business interests of Isaac Walsky of Baltimore.

Bobbie Selnick: Hatbox from Schleisner Co., Baltimore.

Arnold Fruman: Three framed original artworks, by Aaron Sopher and Don Swann, Sr., which hung in the office of Leonard Fruman at National Lumber.

Frances Banks: Scripts, lyrics, and prayers, handwritten by Florence Hoffman Myers for various Baltimore Jewish organizations; a diary written by Gertrude Hoffman Deitz during a 1951 trip to Israel; a Baltimore high school sorority/fraternity roster book, 1960.

Judy Wolfe: Gwynn Oak Park nickel; paper ephemera related to the political careers of Marvin Mandel and Samuel N. Friedel; three 4 oz. bottles of Manischewitz; novelty product, "Eau de Gefilte Fish."

Barbara Taylor and Arch Peregoff: Framed portrait of Lillian Savetman Peregoff (1908-1958) of Baltimore, painted by local artist Ronald Lee Anderson, 1952.

Duke Zimmerman: T-shirt, signs, stickers, and flyers collected by donor from Baltimore rallies against the Iran deal, September 2015. NOTE that we would like to continue collecting material from current issues, and from all sides of such issues, affecting Maryland's Jewish community.

Jo-Ann Orlinsky for Baltimore Jewish Council: Two boxes of Baltimore Jewish Council records, 1930s onward.

Helene Waranch for Federation of Jewish Women's Organizations of Maryland: Two boxes of material from the Federation of Jewish Women's Organizations of Maryland.

Jewish Community Services: Ten boxes of records: deceased Holocaust survivors, adding to our existing HIAS records collections.

Marvin Spector: Blue t-shirt, "Walk for Israel", with "SWEEPER" (a volunteer position) on the back, 1980s, worn by the donor as head of the volunteer youth group sweepers.

Saralynn Glass: Copy of the White House Cook Book, 1887, from donor's mother's collection

Penny George and Mark Trunk: Handmade advertising sign, Hendlar ice cream, from Sollod's Pharmacy in South Baltimore, 1940s or earlier; later used in The Olde Malt Shop \(same site\).

The Hendler's sign on display in our Beyond Chicken Soup exhibit.

Marcia Goldman: Hanging scale, used at Lazinsky's Fish Market (donor's family), Lombard Street, early 20th century. Gift of Marcia Berlin Goldman, in memory of Morris and Sarah Lazinsky and their children Helen Lazinsky Cohen, Samuel Lazinsky, Joseph Lazinsky, Lena Lazinsky Berlin, and Rose Lazinsky Schwartz.

Joan Raskin, M.D.: Doll dressed in a replica Sinai nurses uniform of 1919, white and blue with a white cap, given to donor as a child in 1935.

Elsa Wolman Katana: Archival material collected by/related to the career of Abel Wolman (1892-1989), donor's grandfather, including a published oral history and several publications related to Wolman's work in Israel/Palestine.

Toby Gordon: Penny scale from Kramer's Pharmacy; Stewart's store receipt; confirmation photograph, 1970-1972; book of poetry by local author; metal document box from Meyer & Thalheimer, Baltimore.

Steve and Susan Sklar: Papers, photos, and memorabilia from the lives of Judge Albert and Sayde Sklar and their family.

Jack Schwartz: Large metal fabric winder/"spreader" used at Haas Tailoring.

Rachel V. Glazer: Educational material – curricula, blank test booklets, etc. – from the BJE of Baltimore, 1950s-60s.

Gilda Weinstein: Scrapbook/photo album from owner's trip with her mother to Poland, Czechoslovakia, et.al. in 1980, including photos of Auschwitz.

Susan and Stanley I. Morstein: Two framed items related to the careers of Daniel and Bess Ellison, Baltimore: photo of Mrs. Ellison with Golda Meir, letter to Mr. Ellison from Judge Brandeis. Gift of Susan and Stanley I. Morstein, and Bess M. Ellison

Mr. Morstein with his donation.

Merrill Lavine: T-shirt from Camp Woodbine, worn by owner's sister, late 1960s. Gift of the Skip Lavine family

Sherrie Polsky: Three jewelry boxes (empty) from Baltimore-area Jewish-owned stores.

Tony Katz: Framed oil portrait of A. Ray Katz (1877-1938), owner's grandfather and first Chairman of the newly merged Associated Jewish Charities of Baltimore, painted by John Doctoroff in the 1940s.

Collected by staff: Five signs collected by participants in social justice rallies (related to the May uprising and a recent rally for renters' rights) co-sponsored by Jewish organizations, Baltimore, 2015.