

Memory Matching Card Game

Play a unique version of game Memory with cards containing images and facts about women featured in JMM's collections. Test your memory while learning about a selection of Jewish women from Maryland.

What you will need:

- Cards (2 sets of each card, printed and cut out)
- Scissors
- Table or flat surface to lay cards on

Memory Matching Card Game

What to do:

- Cut out all the cards. You should have 36 cards featuring 18 unique women on them.
- Lay the cards, with the blank side facing up, on a table. Shuffle the cards out so they are randomly mixed.
- Turn two random cards over. Look at the names listed at the top, images, and descriptions to see if you have two of the same cards.
- If the cards are the same, you have a match. Place the cards aside and draw two cards again.
- If the cards are not the same, turn them back over and place them back in their original spaces. Pick two cards again and try to get a match.
- Keep turning over two cards until you have found all the matching pairs. Use your memory to remember where the cards you've already turned over are located.

Bonus Challenge: Play guess who with your cards. With two players, give each person one of the sets of 18 cards. Print out another set of cards as a deck to draw from. Have player 1 draw from that deck but not reveal their card. Player 2 must ask yes or no questions to figure out, by process of elimination, which woman is on player 1's card. Examples of questions to ask are Does this person wear glasses? Is this person standing? Did this person work with a woman's organization?
